

Baby & just Can't Resist

Reach with my hands, close with my feet;
Open my fingers, nothing like this.
Children and bankers, always insist;
Oh I want you all,
and baby I just can't resist.

Out at the market, though the cupboard's not bare,
you're in the 3rd aisle, were shopping with care,
Everything that I see, I'll buy or could kiss;
Could I carry your groceries,
Cause baby I just can't resist.

Oh (and it's oh so noble just to take what is given,
what is needed beyond daily living,
and it's oh so subtle not to fight for the crumbs;
I honor the man who has everything
Cause he only takes what comes.

See with my eyes; Think in my brain;
And in reflexion, I possessions are pain.
Sharin' our suffering; forgetting our bless;
I should leave you alone,
But baby I just can't resist.

Twist in my heart, relax in my feet;
Let me sit down on the roof top my sweet.
I Karma is coiling, though nothings arise,
I could go home,
But baby I just can't resist.

~~and I just can't resist~~

Oh baby I just can't resist!
